

Kim Garland

Rescue In Lake Simcoe

Kim Garland is a brave man!

The 20-year-old Malton resident fought gallantly Saturday to save the lives of his three companions after their boat capsized in Lake Simcoe.

Two of them, one Terry Rowe, 19, of Crabtree Cres., succumbed to the cold and the 32° (fahrenheit) waters, and drowned. Kim and Beulah Burton, 20, of Stroud, were rescued after spending nine hours in the water clinging desperately to the overturned boat.

Both survivors spent two days in the intensive care unit of the York County Hospital in Newmarket suffering from exhaustion and exposure, and were released Monday night.

Doctors told Mr. and Mrs. William Garland, of Woodruff Cres., that it was a "miracle" that their son and the young woman survived. There are known cases of people lasting seven hours in icy waters, but never nine.

Doctors credit their body fat. Kim weighs about 240 pounds and Beulah about 175, for helping them last as long as they did in the cold.

The two drowning victims, Terry Rowe and Randy Miller, 20, of Gravenhurst, were slim built. Terry was reported to have lost consciousness and drowned after about two hours into the ordeal, while Randy slipped away about 20 minutes later.

Mrs. Garland told The Mercury how Randy had come down to Malton to spend the weekend with Kim. The two had become good friends when the Garlands, who have resided

A happy bunch were these Lancaster Sr. Public School students as they were about to leave on a three day trip to Quebec City Monday morning. A total of 77 students were to make the trip, which was organized by Lancaster's French teacher, Miss Terri Haas. The tour departed from the Ascot Hotel parking lot, and the buses were to return the students to the school this afternoon.

Malton Festival Update

The second Annual Malton Community Festival is looking to be one of Mississauga's major social events.

The program has now expanded to spread over three days including Friday evening, May 27, all day Saturday, May 28, and Sunday evening, May 29. The latest addition is a free Sunday night concert of special appeal to the Italian community, put on by "Discoli", a popular band group.

The location for this year's Festival is Wildwood Park (Goreway Drive and Derry Road) and Malton Community Centre (Morningstar Drive and Darcel Avenue).

The Festival opens "with a splash" on Friday night with a diving display from 6:00 to 7:00 P.M. at the Malton Pool. Performing Arts groups will be active in the new theatre on Morningstar Drive, followed by a Festival Dance in the adjacent large auditorium. Tickets are still available at $4.00 each from Sally Ramsay at 677-0636.

Saturday's program starts at 9:00 A.M. with the official opening of the new bike route in Malton. Everyone is invited to tour the 5½ mile circular route which starts and ends at Ridgewood School (on Cambrett Drive). All participants will receive McDonald's food coupons and become eligible to win big draw prizes.

A parade down Goreway Drive from the Malton Community Centre to the Malton Arena will initiate the Wildwood Park activities, set to begin at 1:00 P.M. Some highlights here will include a bike rodeo, sports demonstrations, international food cuisine, performing dance groups, puppets, movies, children's games, crafts displays and a celebrity dunk-a-booth. Many local community groups will have a promotional and / or fund-raising booths in the arena. Group submissions are still being accepted by the committee (phone Mrs. Pascucci at 677-5137).

Saturday evening's programme will feature a free teen concert in the Malton Arena featuring LYX, a popular group. A celebrity softball game will also be scheduled under the lights at the park with details yet to be announced.

For general information on the Malton Festival, phone the Malton Community Council (677-3409) or Mississauga Recreation and Parks Department (279-7600) between the hours of 9:00 A.M. and 4:00 P.M., Monday through Friday.

Also, please note that indoor alternative programs are planned if weather is unco-operative.

Free Personal Ads

As a special opening feature of the Malton Mercury, you can place a free personal advertisement in our newspaper — yes, absolutely free, a 20-word or less personal ad!

Malton has a population of more than 31,000 people, and that has to add up to a lot of birthdays, anniversaries, graduations, weddings, births etc., and these are the kind of personal ads we're looking for.

And with spring cleaning almost over, or at least it should be, we'll even accept a list of small saleable items. And parents, you can pass along personal congratulations to your son or daughter for passing that big math test or for just doing something nice; for lovers, why not say you love someone special in a word or two in the Malton Mercury, and let us all share your happiness.

Yes, we feel that the whole community can have a lot of innocent fun advertising in our personal section or page, and maybe we can all get to know one another a little better.

And remember, it will cost you nothing except the time it takes you to dial 677-6723 or to write: Malton Mercury, 7350 Bybrook Dr., Malton, Ont. L4T 3R2. Place that classified ad today.

Malton Legion 528 News

By Bob Johnson

Unfortunately, we must begin this week's column with news that our sick and visitation chairman, Ron Price, is still very much in business. Admitted to Etobicoke General hospital during the week were Comrades Marg Danby, John Young and Bill Bewley. Our best wishes go to Marg, John and Bill for full and speedy recoveries.

Walkathon Results: Carole Johnson, Joe Taylor and Pat Saunders "went the distance" from Bloor and Islington to Toronto city hall on Saturday morning, in the Legion's seventh annual walkathon - a distance of 10 miles. They expect that more than $300 will have been raised on behalf of Branch 528 for the Royal Canadian Legion's domiciliary-care centre in Highland Creek, by the time all pledges are honoured and direct donations received.

In The Walkathon, Pat was standing-in (or should that be walking-in) for Gail Robertson, whose mother has taken ill. When it was suggested beforehand that he'd never make it, Pat replied indignantly, "Whadaya mean? Look, when I take on a job I make sure it's done and done right ... and I've got 15 kids to prove it!" It would seem that Pat has proven his point.

Incidentally, Robert Bourque, editor of the Mercury and a member of the Branch, was on hand at the walkathon to take some shots of our Legionettes and Drum Corps. Hopefully, one or two will appear elsewhere in this week's edition if space permits.

Returning To The Domiciliary-Care Centre for a moment, it was officially opened a couple of Sundays ago by Her Honour Pauline McGibbon, Lieutenant-Governor of the Province of Ontario. We overlooked mentioning this in last week's report, but in attendance from the Branch and the Ladies' Auxiliary for the opening ceremonies were Red and Chris Valiquette, Charlie and Evelyn Mair, and Ron and Mary K. Price.

Turning Now To Coming Events, tonight Brian Lavery will be running his

For Weekend Dancing Enjoyment Downstairs, it's the "Crossfire" tomorrow (Friday) evening and a D.J. Saturday night.

For The Golfers, the Branch will hold its first tournament of the season at the Bolton Golf and Country Club on Sunday, May 22nd.

Tee-off at 10:00 a.m.

Also On Sunday, a bus will leave the Branch at 8:00 a.m. for London, for the opening parade and ceremonies of the 1977 Provincial Command Convention, and will return later in the evening. By now, all seats may have been reserved. But, it wouldn't hurt to check the bulletin board anyway! We'll have a full report on the convention on our return the following week.

Which Just About Brings Us to May 27, 28 and 29th - the weekend of the Annual Malton Festival. On Saturday the 28th, in particular, the Branch will be heavily involved in the big parade and in the Legion Bike Rodeo that follows. Keep these dates in mind and stay in town for a solid three days of fun.

By The Time You Read This, a new slate of Branch officers and executive committee will have been elected for the next 12-month term, beginning June 1st, 1977. Hopefully, editor Bob Bourque was able to beat his rather tight deadline with photos and a story of the event. If not, we'll have a full report for you next week. Until then ...

Bear With Us

Well, we made it!
The first edition of the Malton Mercury was published as scheduled last Thursday, May 12.
But it didn't go off without a hitch, in fact, there was a time there last week when it seemed a postponement of a day or week would have to be made.
The important thing, however, is that we published on time despite these early problems, and, hopefully, as we become more organized with each passing day, these problems will fall into place and things will begin to run a little smoother.
Until that time, we ask you to bear with us.

Letters To The Editor

Malton Mercury Staff:

On Friday May 12, 1977 I had an opportunity to read the first edition of the Malton Mercury.

I would like to congratulate the staff on the fine job they did in getting this paper out in such a short period of time. Many of you must have burned the midnight oil in doing so.

In this day and age when life styles are moving so quickly and small towns are becoming large Metropolitan areas, I believe a local newspaper is more important than ever. The first edition of the Mercury is certainly this kind of paper. Local news is always of importance to everyone in the surrounding area.

Congratulations on a job well done and I wish you all the luck and good fortune in your endeavours with this paper in the future.

Bill Danby,
Malton Resident.

Fathers and mothers got into the act Saturday as the Malton Cooperative Playschool held an open house at the Malton Community Centre and Library. It was a chance for the fathers to see first hand what kind of activities the school is offering. For more pictures please see Page 9.

Father's Day At The Co-op Playschool

Father's Day at the Malton Co-operative Playschool was held on Saturday, May 14.

This was a special event where the fathers came to visit the school to observe and participate first hand the activities of the day.

Among the many things on the agenda were finger painting, kite making and films.

The Malton Co-operative Playschool started in the fall of 1976 in the Orenda Room at the Malton Arena, and since then has moved to the new Malton Community Centre, 3540 Morning Star Dr.

The Playschool is in operation mornings from 9:15 to 11:30 a.m. on Monday and Thursday, Tuesday and Friday of each week.

Teachers Lynn Antram and Willi Argudin instruct classes of 20 preschoolers each with the help of three co-operative duty mothers.

The school is made up of a co-operative group of concerned parents whose participation and support help in the administration and finance of the school.

The Playschool for children ages 3-5 years is now accepting registration for the fall.

For further information please call Registrar, Carol Watson at 677-9281.

New Theatre Group

It looks as though the gorgeous new theatre in Malton is going to have a theatre group of its own.

Plans were announced earlier this week to form a community theatre in Malton to be called the Mississauga North Theatre. Initially the group will be headed by Gerry Campbell, a theatre teacher at Westwood Secondary School in Malton.

Campbell says that he hopes the new group will start off well with a smash hit entitled, "My Fat Friend". The play was a huge success in both London and New York where Lynn Redgrave played the part of the rather rotund girl who for romantic reasons sheds her tonnage with hilarious results. The play was written in 1972 and so has a very up to date flavour. It is fast-paced, witty and stars the most unlikely set of room mates one could imagine.

The play is to be presented at the Malton Community

Malton Man To Be Invested As Chief Scout

William McDonald, of 1 Studley Street, Malton, will be invested as a Chief Scout of the Boy Scouts Association of Canada on June 4th, 1977, at Camp Samac, near Oshawa.

A Chief Scout is equivalent to the King Scouts and Queen

Scouts of years past - the highest honour that can be conferred by the Association.

Bill is a member of the 1st Malton Scout Troop, sponsored by the local branch of the Royal Canadian.

Terry Jones, P.C. candidate in Mississauga North, despite having suffered torn ligaments in his right ankle, is out on the streets canvassing.

Although he cannot walk from door to door, Terry is moving about in an electric golf cart nicknamed "Terry's Trolley". Accompanied by a campaign worker who knocks on the doors for him, Mr. Jones is confident that he will be able to meet a good number of his constituents in spite of his handicap.

The injury occurred on the same day the provincial election was called. Terry was rushing to answer a phone call from a constituent when he tore the ligaments. His doctor expects that he will be walking normally on or about June 9.

LaRochelle Acclaimed

Al Rochelle was acclaimed as the Liberal Party candidate for Mississauga North last week at a meeting held at T.L. Kennedy Secondary School.

Mr. LaRochelle's nomination went uncontested despite early fears that he would be opposed by former Federal MP Hyl Chappell. Chappell did attend the meeting but did not stand for election.

Malton Councillor Frank McKechnie was also an interested observer at the meeting.

Mr. LaRochelle, 28, said he was now looking forward to the all candidates meeting scheduled for Malton May 31. He said the main concerns to him were waste in government spending and the environment (too much pollution).

Keeping to the latter theme, Mr. LaRochelle promised that he would not proliferate neighborhoods with lawn signs in his name. "No small lawn signs for me, just large ones at major intersections in Malton and other parts of the riding."

He added: "People are tired of political signs, they're more interested in policy and what a party stands for."

Mr. LaRochelle said he will limit his campaign spending to $10,000.

His party has opened a campaign office at 2185 Dunwin Dr. in Erin Mills. The number there is 828-1560. He also plans a mobile office for the Westwood Mall parking lot, and to hire a van to travel around all the plazas in Mississauga North.

Mr. LaRochelle is opposed by Terry Jones, Progressive Conservative, and David Busby, New Democratic Party.

Liberal candidate Al La Rochelle wasted little time after his nomination last week to start canvassing the Malton area. Here Mr. La Rochelle passes out a campaign card to Moe Shadlyn, who works in the Westwood Mall Management office.

Busby Statement

David Busby

"If the Davis government really thinks that it has met the problem of youth unemployment by the schemes proposed in its last budget, it must believe that you can treat arthritis with an aspirin," says David Busby, NDP candidate in Mississauga North.

"The promise to pay a dollar an hour for 20,000 new summer jobs, the centrepiece of the budget proposals, is so full of loopholes that even the Toronto Globe and Mail dismissed it as an election gimmick. Unless the government ties the scheme up with red tape rules, the loopholes are obvious. Every summer job is a "new" job. Otherwise they would last year-round."

Busby continued: "Most of the other schemes offered by the Tories are the familiar old schemes from the past, whether they hand out money to a few junior achievers or simply turn them into summer civil servants. No reasonable person would criticize these programmes. They merely ask whether this is all or whether the poor old Davis government has run out of ideas."

"The magnitude of the problem is obviously beyond the capacity of this government to cope. According to the latest figures, more than 15 per cent of workers under 25 are jobless. This year, an estimated 197,000 young people will leave school to join the work force. The government which presides so proudly over this "Province of Opportunity" merely declares that they must shift for themselves.

"The centrepiece of any solution must be a major cut in personal income tax. Money saved will be spent on goods and services Ontario can produce. Every serious economist, regardless of party, agrees. If the Tories won't do it, we can."

M.N. Priority Riding

Mississauga North has been designated as a "priority" riding by the New Democratic Party in the June 9 provincial election.

Such designation means that Party Leader Stephen Lewis will make periodical visits to the riding. The NDP candidate here is David Busby.

Actually, Mr. Lewis will be making many unofficial steps in the riding during the campaign, because his private Lear jet is parked at the Skyport field in Malton.

in Malton for five years, lived in Newmarket.

The two had decided to go camping up north, and contacted Terry who owned a small aluminum boat and motor. They picked up Terry's fiancée, Beulah on the way.

Mrs. Garland said things started off well enough, as the group set out from Innisfil Beach Park and arrived safely at their destination, Snake Island in Lake Simcoe. However, after awhile the group apparently became bored with the place, finding it too depressing and lonely and, above all, no place to spend the night.

But the winds were coming up over the lake, and with it high waves. Someone worried aloud that it wasn't safe to make the crossing under these conditions with all on board, and that maybe they should wait there until morning. In the end, they decided to go.

Three miles out their 12-foot boat began to take in water, and slowing down only made matters worse. At about 5:30 p.m. Saturday the boat capsized, pitching its human cargo into the freezing waters of the 80-foot-deep lake.

After a couple of hours in the water Terry began to tire and lose his grip, but Kim repeatedly pulled him back to the boat by grabbing his long hair. His efforts though were in vain, and soon both his friends were gone, leaving him and Beulah to struggle on, through the evening and into the night.

Mrs. Garland said that, according to her son, Kim spent the balance of the time in the water holding onto the boat with one hand and the girl with the other. Several times he heaved her up onto the back of the boat but she kept slipping off.

Earlier, he had tried to remove the motor from the boat and turn it over, but it was just impossible to do under the conditions. One of the group suggested making a swim for it, to the nearest shore, but Kim felt their chances were better if they stayed together and stayed with the boat. (Mrs. Garland said that all four were good swimmers).

Just before dusk the pair's strong will to survive must have been jolted somewhat when a boat passed close by without spotting them or hearing their desperate cry. Kim said he could see the lights of the boat and heard music on board, but figures the music and the loud churning of the engines drowned out his scream.

And to make matters worse, the boat's engines sent a huge wave crashing over them, almost breaking Kim's life saving grip.

Finally, a cottager heard something like a scream and alerted Jim Day, a ferry operator on the lake. Day started his search and circled the area near the overturned boat three times before discovering them. In fact, Day said he was about to give up when he heard Beulah's hysterical call, "I'm afraid." He moved in and almost ran over them, however, Kim warded him off in time.

Despite nine hours in the water and all that happened this day, Kim even had the strength left to help Day pull the young woman into the rescue boat.

Mrs. Garland spoke very proudly of her son, and deservedly so. Not even a day out of hospital and Kim was back up north Tuesday helping police in their search for the missing bodies.

Kim works the midnight shift at a self-serve station in Brampton, and attends Westwood Secondary School three days a week to attain his final Gr. 12 credits. He has an older brother Keith, 23, and a sister Karen, 16.

Teen Dance Tuesdays At Malton Community Centre

Malton Community Services, now renamed Malton Community Council, continues to operate a teen dance every Tuesday night at the Malton Community Centre and Library.

The dance is open to teens 13 to 17 years, admission is 50-cents per person.

So far, attendance has been very good, an average of 100 people per night. Coke and chips are available for sale, 25-cents each. The dance runs from 7:30 to 10 p.m.

The dance was organized by youth members of the

Where Is Our Library?

There seems to be a lot of Malton people out there, still in the dark about where our public library has gone.

Well, folks, it hasn't gone very far. The library moved from its temporary home in the lower level of the Westwood Mall to the new Malton Community Centre and Library Complex on Morning Star Dr., opposite Westwood Secondary School.

The library made the move last January after about a year in the Mall. Still though, employees of businesses in the lower level still report that a week doesn't go by without someone wandering into their office to inquire about the phantom library.

Malton Community Council, Tim Hallett, Debbie Wells, Mark Mason and Gayle Franklin. Adult supervision is provided by Mary Johnston, Bob Mason, and Carol Berry.

The Council reports that the community centre staff have been very cooperative in the organization of the dance, and that the police have been dropping in periodically on a volunteer basis.

Adult volunteers are needed, please call Carol Berry, 678-2321.

A reminder that the Council is organizing a teen concert for Malton Arena on Friday, May 27, as part of the Malton Community Festival. Music by Lyx, a Malton group. Admission is 50-cents.

4 Arrested In Malton Disturbance

Peel Regional Police were summoned to a Malton residence on the weekend and arrested four armed men for threatening a man and his family.

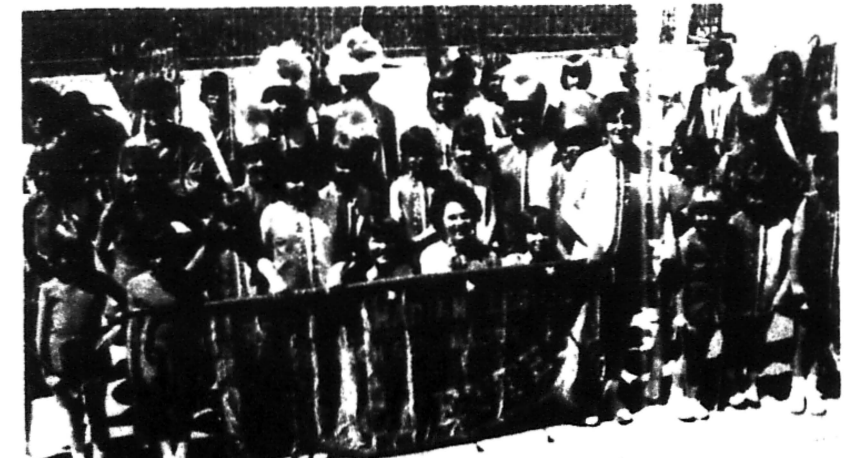

Sohan Singh Nagra, of 7790 Kittridge Dr., complained to police about four men, armed with weapons who were shouting loud threats against himself and his family. The group were trying to gain entrance to his home.

Constables from 21 Division arrived and arrested and charged the men with possession of weapons dangerous to the public health.

Arrested and charged were: Sahan Singh Heer, 21, and Harri Singh Pandher, 33, both of Downsview, Abraham Mohammad, 27, Rexdale, and Atma Larh Singh, 28, of Weston. They will appear in Brampton court on June 8.

Actual construction of Malton Public School's "Creative Playground" project was to have begun Tuesday. Here Bob Lediard, maintenance construction supervisor, City of Mississauga, Jamie Douglas, landscape architect, Sylvia Weylie, teacher-librarian, Mrs. Shirley Palmer, principal, and Wolf Fahraender, finance chairman for the project, study a blueprint of the playground. It's expected to be completed by June 30.

The Malton Legion Branch 528 Legionettes were out in force Saturday to support the Royal Canadian Legion's seventh annual walk-a-thon project. The Legionettes performed on the square at Toronto City Hall.

A group of Grade 2 students of Our Lady of the Airways School posed for this shot Sunday after making their first Holy Communion.
